Reference: Metal-Fab Model SureSeal DV Direct Vent Systems

Empire Comfort Systems, Inc. is pleased to announce that Metal-Fab SureSeal DV venting system products have been independently tested by Intertek Testing Services and Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., and comply with the applicable safety test standards for use with the White Mountain and American Hearth brand direct vent gas fireplaces.

When using Metal-Fab SureSeal as an alternate vent system, refer to the venting guidelines included in the fireplace installation instructions for proper clearances and vent run information. Installation instructions will be revised in the near future to include reference that the SureSeal vent systems are an acceptable vent option.

Vent adapters are available through your Metal-Fab dealer for use with ECS fireplaces that use 4 x 6 5/8" diameter systems.
